A            So listen.

B            Yep?

A            One more thing.

B            Shoot.

A            It's almost certainly not a problem, it probably won't even come up...

B            Are you trying to make me nervous?

A            No! No. I just thought I'd mention it.

B            Cool. Mention what?

A            ...nothing. Nothing to mention.

B            I can handle it. Whatever it is, I can make it work.

A            You shouldn't have to.

B            Well now I'd like to be ready for it, at least.

A            Forget I said anything. You'll be fine.

B            Will I?
